

LAMAIA VAUGHN – Workshop Bio

I am a writer, video producer and an assistant professor of creative media at Dona Ana Community College. (Yes, we do teach creativity at a community college, much to some people's chagrin.) I studied poetry, calligraphy, watercolor and book arts as an undergraduate creative writing major, and went on to receive my M.F.A. in film production and screenwriting from the University of Southern California. For the past 17 years, I have taught various art forms to the residents of Las Cruces through Dona Ana Community College, their community education program and with the Las Cruces Public Schools.